Computer Basics

Monday, January 21, 10:00 am or Thursday, January 24, 1:30 pm

This class assumes you have little experience with a computer. You will learn how to properly use a mouse and a keyboard. These skills are very important to master before continuing to learn about the computer. Tips and tricks will also be included for you 'seasoned' users!

iPads: Music and Photos

Wednesday, January 16, 6:00 pm or
Tuesday, January 29 10:00 am

Roughly 53 million people own an iPad - do you? If so, join us for discussion on how to organize, share, print and import photos. We will also talk about how to get music, create playlists and use iTunes. Features and apps covered will include Photo Booth, Photo Stream, Picture Frame, Genius, Siri and iTunes Match.

Genealogy Computer Classes

Ancestry.com Searches: A Behind the Scenes Look

Thursday, January 10, 3:00 pm or
Tuesday, January 22, 10:00 am

Learn how searching at Ancestry.com works AND get an inside view of tricks you'll need to take full advantage of its power. The class will walk you through the tech side and present you with plenty of tips, advice and even a few workarounds - all of which will help you make your next search at Ancestry.com more effective and better than ever.

Genealogy Power Searching with Google

Tuesday, January 15, 3:00 pm or Wednesday, January 30, 3:00 pm

Google Search makes it amazingly easy to find information. You will learn about the powerful advanced tools Google provides to help you find the right information when the stakes are high.
