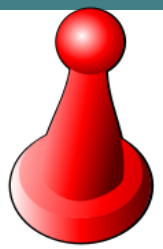
READ BIG, PLAY BIG

Every week this summer we will be offering a different board game to play. But instead of tabletop games, you will be able to play room-sized versions of your favorite games! Challenge your friends, siblings and parents. See who has what it takes to be declared the winner! Sign-up in advance in the Young Adult room every week this summer.



Summer Book and More Club!

Mark the dates on your calendars! June 7th, June 21st and July 19th from 7-8pm the Young Adult Department will be hosting Book and More discussions. Pick up our book club book, read it and be ready to share your thoughts, likes and dislikes of the book with the group. Then be prepared to share your ideas on whatever else you are currently reading or watching.

The first book for the Summer Book and More Club will be Catching Jordan by Miranda Kenneally. Copies will be available by June 1st. Other books will be chosen at the first meeting. No format will be discouraged, either. Poetry, prose, graphic novels, even a recent movie can be discussed during this time! (But please, no movie spoilers. No one wants to know who Luke's father really is.)

Summer Reading Program

Do you like free stuff? Well, why not read a book or five or more and receive free stuff? Ice cream and books and zombies, oh my! Sign up for our Summer Reading Program and you can win some great things. Books are always cool; so is ice cream! What about free books and gift Certificates to awesome places? Did we mention free books?

Sign-up begins on May 21st. Further details available then.

Video Game Club

What's that? A video game club? Yes, a video game club! Do you have a favorite video game or did you recently pick up a new one? Bring it into the YA room on the 2nd and 4th Thursday of the Month (June 14th and 28th and July 12 and 26th) from 7-8pm and share it with others!

50/50 Summer Reading Challenge!

How many books did you read last summer? Five? Ten? Fifteen? How about 25? Well, 25 isn't going to cut it this year! You've got to prove your reading prowess this year as the bar is set high.

Think you can handle fifty books over fifty days? (We are giving you Sundays off from reading all summer long.) The more you read, the more you'll improve your chances of winning an incredibly cool prize. Do you have what it takes to read like no one has read before? Think you can make it to the top of the heap?

Learn how to blog and write about what you are reading all summer long with this daring Summer Reading Challenge! Introduction to Blogging and Reading Challenge expectations will be held on June 5th in the YA Room.

2600 Video Game Challenge

Every week this summer there will be a new video game challenge on the Atari 2600! The YA Librarian will post his time or score on a randomly selected game and will challenge any teen who wants to try and take the top spot away from him. The highest score every week wins something. The grand prize will be awarded at the end of the summer in the form of bragging rights and a really nice trophy!

Summer Writers' Workshop

Once again the Young Adult Department at the CFPL will be hosting a Summer Writers' Workshop. Mark the dates on the calendar for Thursday June 7th, June 14th, June 21st, June 28th and July 12th from 1-2pm. This opportunity will allow you to work on and improve your writing skills. Spots are limited so sign up fast.
